DEUTSCHE ILCO
Selbsthilfeorganisation Stoma / Darmkrebs

Press Release

Successful start of the discussion-forum of Deutsche ILCO

With the independent and advertising-free discussion-forum www.ilco.de/forum Deutsche ILCO offers new possibilities to ostomates, to people with colon cancer and to their relatives to exchange experiences. We are proud that we could manage the start on 29 June 2016. Since then this forum in german language lives by the activities of the users: questions, reports and interesting discussions.

Besides the regularly meetings of about 300 local ILCO-chapters this is another virtual possibility for ostomates to get in contact. Two years ago a facebook site of Deutsche ILCO had gone online, last year we could install a facebook group for young ostomates run by young members – and now there is the forum. People who are not able or who are not willing to visit regional and local chapters don't find themselves excluded from easy exchange possibilities any longer.
Every user can read all questions and answers without registration – so one can check if this forum is interesting enough to step in. Those who want to write own questions or to participate in discussions have to register. Registration requires just a nickname, a password and a valid e-mail-address.
The forum has not only been developed by a group of interested members of Deutsche ILCO. It is also looked after by volunteers, all members of Deutsche ILCO who had been trained in a special workshop.
Two different postcards – as eye-catchers – inform of the forum. They are distributed via hospitals, nurses, pharmacies, health insurances … and – of course – by the members of Deutsche ILCO.
Come in and join us!

05.08.2016
Maria Hass

Deutsche ILCO e.V.-Bundesverband, Thomas-Mann-Str. 40, 53111 Bonn, Germany, Telefon: 0049 228 33 88 94-50, Telefax -75, E-Mail: info@ilco.de, Internet: www.ilco.de and www.ilco.de/forum

Shit happens

picture: Deutsche ILCO

Here you are right

picture: Deutsche ILCO